Exilis 360

By BTL

Monopolar radiofrequency is a non-invasive technology that safely heats the deeper layers of the skin, stimulating collagen and elastin production. This treatment is designed to improve skin firmness, texture, and overall appearance—painlessly and with no downtime.

Face and neck	460	1472	2208

Loose Skin

The treatment tightens sagging skin on the face and body, giving it a more toned and lifted appearance.

Fine Lines and Wrinkles

By targeting visible signs of aging, radiofrequency helps smooth the skin and reduce fine lines, especially around the eyes, mouth, and neck.

Texture Improvement

Skin becomes smoother, more supple, and more even, with refined texture over the course of treatments.

This comfortable treatment can be performed on various areas, including the face, neck, abdomen, arms, and thighs.

Photo Rejuvenation

Lumecca
By InMode

Intense Pulsed Light (IPL) is an advanced technology that treats various skin concerns by targeting pigments and blood vessels while stimulating collagen production.

It can be used for:

Acne and acne scars

By reducing sebum production and targeting the bacteria responsible for inflammation, IPL helps to diminish mild to moderate acne as well as scars by improving skin texture.

Redness, couperose, rosacea, and vascular lesions

This treatment reduces the appearance of dilated blood vessels and redness associated with rosacea and couperose, resulting in a more even complexion.

Pigmentation spots & hyperpigmentation

IPL targets brown spots caused by the sun, aging, or other factors, evening out the complexion and lightening areas with excessive pigmentation.

Improvement of skin texture and firmness

By stimulating collagen production, photo-rejuvenation firms the skin, reduces the appearance of fine lines, and improves skin texture by minimizing enlarged pores.

It uses intense pulsed light to target and treat various skin imperfections without the need for incisions or prolonged recovery, making the process safe and painless.
